

Quotes of the Week

The Ottawa Citizen

Sun Aug 9 2009

Page: A2

Section: City

Source: The Ottawa Citizen

'It's going to be a lot more difficult to say we don't have a village when we have 30 flags in the air.'

GLENN CRAWFORD, who has spearheaded a campaign to have the city officially recognize Bank Street between Nepean and James streets as a gay village.

- - -

'Keep building that ark.'

Climatologist DAVID PHILLIPS warns that the August forecast calls for cooler than normal and wetter than normal.

- - -

'I'm hoping we can put this sad ordeal behind us.'

Ottawa Mayor LARRY O'BRIEN outside the Elgin Street courthouse after charges against him were dismissed.

- - -

'I washed my face, brushed my teeth and flew out the door.'

TINA FATA on discovering the early-morning fire at her family's restaurant, Caffé Nostra Trattoria in Little Italy.

- - -

'We are concentrating on selling the businesses first.'

MIKE ZAFIROVSKI, chief executive of Nortel Networks, says he expects to have initial bids for every one of the firm's business units by the end of September.